San Blas Islands/Guna Yala:

The Archipelago of San Blas on Panama's Caribbean Coast has 365 islands, & is home to Panama's most famous of the 7 Native indigenous tribes in the country, the Kuna Indians (known for their "Molas"). We will journey to 3 different islands.... and one unique location only about a 20 min. boat ride one from the other.... and all of which are about a 25-min. boat ride from our main base at Isla Aguja ("Needle Island").

*Tour to these Islands:
Big Dog Island, (Isla Perro Grande)*

The complex

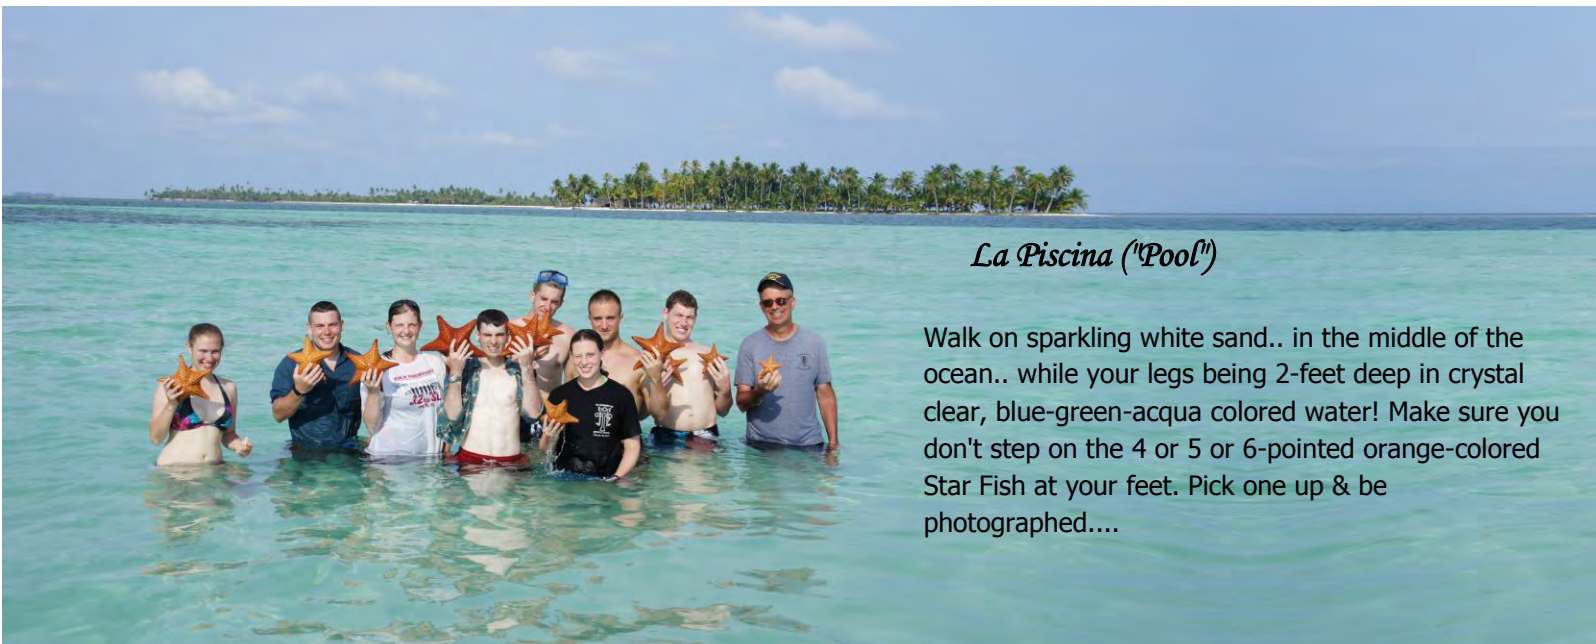

Isla "Solo un Coco" ("One-coconut-tree-island")

A unique island the size of your living & dining room at home, with just one coconut tree. Located about 3 miles from "Dog Island", it's a picture-taking experience as you lean on the lone palm tree palm, (and the shot is taken from the boat, away from the island).

Isla Arena ("Sand island")

Sand popped out of the water ! And you have your island...the size of your bedroom with No coconut tree. A priceless picture, titled "No man is an island". If you're a female, we'll rename it: "No woman is an Island". Now you can appreciate Robinson Crusoe !

La Piscina ("Pool")

Walk on sparkling white sand.. in the middle of the ocean.. while your legs being 2-feet deep in crystal clear, blue-green-acqua colored water! Make sure you don't step on the 4 or 5 or 6-pointed orange-colored Star Fish at your feet. Pick one up & be photographed....

Pelican island, "Isla Pelicano"

Isla Perro (“Dog Island”)...great for Snorkeling!

Fastly becoming a popular stopover paradise. It's roughly smaller than a football field, with one small thatched roof hut. A sunken old cargo vessel (100 ft. away) adds a little snorkeling adventure. Lay on the beach, tan like the natives, & enjoy a lot of drinks.....
